

I AM THE FACE OF ADDICTION

Monday May 22, 2017

6:30 PM-9:30 PM

FREEMANSBURG POLICE DEPARTMENT
600 Monroe St, Freemansburg, Pennsylvania 18017

Addiction is a disease and it does not discriminate; it hits all walks of life and could be knocking on your family's door. Everyone is impacted by this, and it's time we as a community come together and speak out to bring about awareness and education. Learn the warning signs, and how to get help, please come out and hear our message. It could save a life, it could save a family and that family could be yours.

Come out and hear a young person in recovery share their experience through addiction and recovery

Listen to the story of a family and how addiction and recovery has changed their lives

Hear from community leaders, & law-enforcement

As they teach on current local drug trends, root causes of addiction and means of intervention

Center for Humanistic Change" will also be present to share their "mock bedroom scenario
